(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., and class matter.)

dunce of himself, is more than we can conjecture. Not only did the Governor wiscons and believe a fire conzequiation, as well as all who did to present the reconzequiation, as well as all who did to present the conzequiation of the conjecture. Not only did the Governor wiscons are conzequiated by violated the plainest relieve of hospitals, as well as all who did to the attraction of the satisfaction of the came with discretify and discretified and down and a transfer and the father of their down and the discretified and down and a transfer and the father of their discretified and down and the discretified and down and the discretified and discretifif ments of the urban life none are of greater banefit to a community than the public park, which serves the three-fold purpose of health, pleasure and beauty. The great cities have their great parks, but they have also their smaller public squares, so many beautified breathing places in the piles of bricks and mortar.

Wheeling has a park in every way creditable to the enterprise of the men who established it, but though it serves well in Wheeling, in the associations that cluster about the historic spot and in the defenders of the Union who date their service from old Camp Carlile. The response is loud enough and clear enough to strengthen the conviction that the Memorial Park can be made a splendid reality. Earnest men are taking hold; everybody will be asked to lend a hand, and no effort will be spared to make the dream a living fact. These who have generously volunteered to subscribe will have opportunity to hand in their money.

The Man and the Woman

In Cincinnati a man deserted his wife and lived with a woman who deserted her husband for the purpose of forming an unlawful and immoral copartnership. The course of unhallowed fancy did not run smooth, and then there was a shock-ling tragedy. The man murdered his com-panion and then took his own life. There was nothing much out of the common run in this. It has happened before; it will nd then there was a shock-happen again.

The wile of the erring husband took his body from the morgne and gave it decent interment. The husband of the murdered with these reduced to have anything to do with the remains, leaving them to be buried in the remains, leaving them to be buried in When the cold hand of death had been laid upon the form she had loved, the woman could forgive. Perhaps the old love came back; perhaps, in spite of the wrong and the humiliation, the old love had never left her heart. The man stood dumb to the appeal of death. He had been cruelly wronged, his place given to another. There was polution in the very clay that lay in the morgue; he would not touch it. Who will say that it was Bros. his duty to take that body from the morgue and bury it? Who will say that the twice-widowed wife did no more than Men love as they are capable of loving, but woman's love is not in them. Their rate of $1.50, and to Washington, Pa., and hearts may be as pure, but hot so deep.

Man's love to d man's life a thing apart,

Man's love to d man's life a thing apart, Men love as they are capable of loving Man's love is of man's life a thing apart, 'Tis woman's whole existence.

Concerning a Demagogue.

E. W. Wilson would never have been thought of as an invited guest at the Reunion had it not been that he was Governor of the State. And, as usual, the crack brained demagogue exposed himself by making an anti-Camden speech before the G. A. R. If he had brain in proportion to his mouth he would be an intellectual gisnt, but as it is the people generally would prefer hearing a horse-fiddle.

Fought a Good Fight.

Martiniburg Biraid.

Hon. O. B. Hart, of the Wheeling INTELLIDENCER, fought a good fight for the business interests of that city, and we believe that the enterprise and monied investment of Wheeling will sustain him against the merely personal and parties and exclusively political opposition that public success and prosperity have to contend against there and elsewhere in this State.

Joe Foraker's pants are small, but he sits down awfully hard, Askthe Governor of West Virginia about it.

THAT PANTASTIC SERENADE To Windy Wilson-Not So Much of an En-dorsement After All.

harieston State Tribune. His Flatulency E. Windy Wilson after his display of lequacity at Wheeling last week, was the recipient of one of the Roch Run, Pleasants county, West Virmost fantastic serenades it was ever our ortune to witness.

After canvassing the town, using every After canvassing the town, using every blandlabment, employing every argument, endeavoring to excite prejudice, and in fact doing everything to work up a crowd, a motley rabble of boys, bums and a few friends of Governor Wilson were gotten together and proceeded to the Gubarnatorial manolon, on Monday night, and tendered the Governor a seronade. Why anybody should want to compliment Governor Wilson for making a consummate dunce of himself, is more than we can conjecture. Not only did the Governor make a fool of himself, but he also grossly violated the plainest rules of hospital-

Notwithstanding the bluff that a few Notwithstanding the old that a level Democrate are affecting, it is manifest that a great majority of our people are ashamed of the conduct of the Governor. Many look upon it as a bid for the ex-Confedence influence and that view of the matter is disgusting to them.

AN OHIO MAN'

Offers Some Suggestions Regarding the Re union Episode. To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

WOOSTER, Onio, August 31.-I notice the purpose it is remote from the city and that you have been having a "picnic" at it is not a free park. Wheeling is no Wheeling, and that Governor Foraker o longer a village, and she is no longer poor. this State struck the biggest accumulation Yet the visitor sees little here to suggest of gas on record-unfortunately the gas that we have a thought beyond glass and was not of an illuminating quality and iron and steel and pottery. There is very was very early exhausted. I presume by this time the Governor of West Virginia perhaps as great a measure as in any other city of this size. We have not as much as a public equere. Except our soldiers on difference between loyalty and discrete between loyalty and a public squere. Except our soldiers' monument, bustowed by public subscription, and the Paxton fountair, the gift of a public spirited citizen, we are without public ardornment. We have now an opportunity to supply to some extent this conspicuous deficiency, and the people seem to be in the mind to do it.

The INTELLIGENCER'S suggestion of a Memorial Park on the site of old Camp Carlile is as seed that has fallen on fertile ground. The public convenience and the patriotic sentiment of the people appeal to the liberality of all who are interested in Wheeling, in the associations that clus-fable and tried to "awell up as large as the oz" with fatal results.

I said before I am glad the matter occurred. There are too many people in our midst who for the sake of peace are almost ready to spologize for having been Union men, but we have yet to hear the first rebel who has spologized for being a traiter to his covernment and an enemy. traitor to his government and an enemy to her best interests. It is unfortunate that these men do not like to be called that these men do not like the to be called rebels; that they do not like their actions to be denounced as treason; but we can-not change the dictionary, and those are the only terms which are correct in their case. It may be very unpleasant for a thin-skinned thief to be called a thief, but there are not many the fast under obtain here are not many who feel under obli-stions to call him an "innecuous pecu-ator," to apologize to him for the harsh good feeling when thieves should be re-ceived into the best society.

Possibly the frequency of bank defalca-tions and of swindles on a grand scale nay be owing to the fact that stealing has
